Dr. Brown earned her Master's degree in Physical Therapy from Springfield College in 1996 and her Doctorate in Physical Therapy from Temple University in 2009. She was awarded her Geriatric Clinical Specialist certification in 2008. Dr. Brown's area of expertise is geriatric physical therapy with the neurologically impaired population, primarily Parkinson's Disease, as her interest sparked back in school as her grandfather and uncle both had/have PD. Dr. Brown worked for Main Line Health for 15 years and founded Dynamic Home Therapy in 2011, where she currently serves as CEO while still actively participating in provision of physical therapy services and group classes.

Jennifer has spoken locally and nationally for the American Physical Therapy Association, PD support groups, continuing education events and is a member of the Philadelphia area local movement disorder group of medical professionals. She has been an adjunct faculty member at Harcum College and at Drexel University.
